

STRONG NERVES ARE REQUIRED OF ARMY AVIATORS

Airman Barred From British and U. S. Corps By Injuries
Comes to Honolulu

An aviator and former driver of racing automobiles, M. B. Value, has come to Honolulu on engineering work after an unsuccessful attempt to join both American and British flying corps. He arrived this morning on the boat from Vancouver and Victoria.

Following America's entrance into the war, Value went to San Diego and tried to get into the corps there, and on being refused went to Canada to try to get into the British corps. Here he was not allowed to enter on account of injuries he had sustained in an automobile accident three years ago.

In telling of the tests that aviators must go through before they are accepted, Value said:

"Aside from a very close examination of the entire body, with special attention to ears and eyes, the applicant's nerves must undergo a stringent test. We are made to grasp two handles of an electrical apparatus and the device to which these are connected records the reaction of the nerves to shocks."

For several years Value has done automobile racing in the state of New York. Three years ago he "went through the fence," as he says, and broke three ribs near his heart. It was this injury which prevented his entrance into the flying corps of the nation. He has also done considerable flying.

Value is down here with a cement gun company, which manufactures a plastering machine, and in a short time will leave for Maui, where he will do some work for the Maui Agricultural Company.

32ND INFANTRY PRACTISES ON DEFENSIVE PROBLEM

Under command of Col. L. L. Durfee, the entire regiment of the 32nd Infantry left Schofield Barracks today in motor trucks for the north coast of the island. The exercise of troops was in preparation for a defensive problem between Wailua and Wailua Bay.

Lunches were taken in preparation for field work, and the soldiers carried their full equipment of entrenching tools.

Tomorrow a hurry-up run will be made to the same vicinity and an "attack" against a "landing party" of small wooden boats which have been placed by sampans will be made. A half of fire from all the detached companies and the machine gun men will sprinkle the water in the vicinity.

U. S. TO AUCTION OFF CONDEMNED PROPERTY

Condemned property belonging to the Quartermaster's department of the army will be sold at auction on the afternoon of Monday, July 23, at Schofield Barracks.

According to the official list that has been issued there are 97 copper bottomed boilers, 56 bridges, 23 buggies, one field desk, two single sets of harness, six lockers, two army ranges, seven field ranges, 30 saws, one set of veterinarian scales and weights, and three wheelbarrows. The sale begins at 1:30 o'clock.

$334,160,000 Gain In Money Orders To Japan Is Recorded

One-third of a million dollars increase in international U. S. money orders sent to Japan by Japanese residents of the territory is shown for the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Figures made public yesterday by Assistant Postmaster W. C. Peterson show the total value of money orders certified to Japan from the Territory of Hawaii for the fiscal year 1916-17 to be $1,196,028.30, against $861,868.05 for 1915-16. This is an increase of $334,160.25.

An even more astonishing gain—half a million dollars—is revealed in the total receipts from money order business alone of the Honolulu postoffice, including receipts from all other postoffices in the territory. The grand total for the year is $3,550,320.34, against $3,059,234.68 for 1915-16. This is an increase of $491,085.66. The Honolulu postoffice receives remittances from all other postoffices in the islands.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS FAVOR CARNIVAL WITHOUT FRILLS

Taking the stand that the 1918 Mid-Pacific Carnival should be devoted to patriotic and military ceremonies with the possible exception of an athletic program, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Wednesday afternoon voted against a general celebration as in former years. The members will meet to take up the recommendations next Wednesday.

The question was brought before the Chamber of Commerce as it has before other civic organizations by the Carnival committee to ascertain the general feeling with regard to a carnival next year.

The directors were also strongly opposed to the usual features of frolic and fun, believing that the occasion should be a more serious affair.

It was generally decided that the ceremonies should begin with patriotic exercises Friday, Washington's birthday day, and probably some sports on Saturday.

A. L. Castle pointed out that a tennis tournament has already been arranged by the Beretania club which has the sanction of the war department, and that this would take several days. It is not a part of the regular carnival program but comes at the same time of year.

FERN ON DECK, STARTS GRINDING

Mayor J. H. Fern, for the first time since he took office July 2, came down to the city hall this morning. He arrived at 10:20 and left at 12 o'clock.

Mayor Fern's first official act was to sign the lease for the second floor of the McIntyre building for the next two years for offices of the city and county government. He next signed the bonds of the Beretania street improvement district, King to Nuuanu, numbering 22. Bids have already been called for and they will be opened August 4 at 1 o'clock in the office of the city treasurer. At 11 o'clock the board of trustees of the pension fund, of which the mayor is chairman, met.

During the time he was in his office many of his friends called and congratulated him on his recovery. Mayor Fern said just before he left that he would probably be down again Monday morning.

HACK DRIVER SHAKE COSTS SHAKER $25 FINE

Seemingly convicted by his own testimony given in the hearing of three counter charges of assault, R. Duschalsky was fined $25 and costs by Judge Harry Irwin after an all morning hearing in police court this morning. K. Kuroda and Lau Nig, who figured in the other charges of assault in the same case, which occurred on July 4, were both discharged. All three cases were tried at once.

Duschalsky's defense was that Lau Nig had called his wife a vulgar name. Kuroda is a son-in-law of Duschalsky and became involved in the affair. All of Duschalsky's witnesses testified that the Chinaman, a hack driver, had applied the vile epithet to Mrs. Duschalsky. The Chinaman's witness testified on the other hand that Mrs. Duschalsky had misinterpreted the expression used. They also testified that Duschalsky had given the Chinaman a severe beating.

When Duschalsky took the stand he said he only shook the hack driver, but admitted, after being questioned by Attorney Lorrin Andrews, who appeared as counsel for Lau Nig, that he did not hit him because he got "no chance."

Attorney Sheldon acted as counsel for Duschalsky. He gave notice of appeal for his client.

Tomorrow Is Dread Friday, "Thirteenth"

If some faithful artisan should place a ladder on the sidewalk tomorrow, beware! Don't take a chance and perambulate under the aforementioned ladder, because tomorrow is "Friday, the thirteenth," and a hod filled with weighty bricks is liable to land on your cranium.

Mr. Man, if a brunette feine should do a fox trot across your greensward tomorrow evening about the time that Morpheus is getting a strange hold on Old Sol, just cross your fingers and hope that the ladder will be the old horsehoes. They say that something will happen on Friday, the thirteenth, so beware!

If you should happen to take about an ounce of pigment off your thumb while trying to send a nail into the innermost regions of a hardwood board, just blame it on Mr. Friday, the thirteenth. And tomorrow morning when you sit down to your early repeat, please do not juggle the salt. There are those who say that if you spill salt on Friday, the thirteenth, you will be injured in an automobile wreck, get married, or have some other bad accident. Remember tomorrow is Friday, the thirteenth, so "Keep Your Fingers Crossed."

BADLY INJURED IN MOTOR CRASH

Although seriously injured, George Alberts, an employee of the Honolulu Iron Works, will probably recover from injuries sustained in a collision with an automobile driven by George Wells, Jr., last night in front of the Y. M. C. A. building. Alberts, who was riding a motorcycle up Alakea street, was knocked unconscious, and his back and right leg were badly bruised. His motorcycle was wrecked, possibly beyond repair.

In his report of the accident, Police Officer Isaac D. Ives, Jr., states that Wells was driving east along Hotel street with his machine on the right hand side of the street. Alberts was going mauka on Alakea and when he saw that a collision was imminent he tried to avoid it by turning to the left, which brought him near the curb of the Y. M. C. A. building.

The statement that Wells was driving at a rate of 30 miles an hour is declared to be untrue by George Wells, Sr., who says his son had just left the garage opposite the Hawaiian Hotel and that it would have been impossible to have attained that speed in the short distance. He thinks his son had a speed of fully 15 miles an hour.

The claim is made that young Wells was so near the right hand curb that he brushed a Japanese from the sidewalk in trying to miss Alberts.

Alberts was taken to the emergency hospital for treatment immediately after the accident.

CITY URGED TO REMEDY WYLLIE STREET CONDITION

Because Wyllie street is in an impassable condition Wade Warren Thayer has written to the board of supervisors again appealing to them to repair it.

"It is an outrage that a street which was a short time ago in good condition should be allowed by the negligence of public officers to deteriorate in the fashion that this street has," Thayer writes.

Thayer said that recently a lady severely sprained her ankle while walking in the street, because there are no sidewalks, and points out to the board that she would have a good case for damages.

When asked about Wyllie street this morning George Collins, city engineer, said: "I know it is an outrage, and there are a lot more of those outrages about the city, all of which we are repairing as quickly as money will allow. During the next six months the road department will have less money to spend than it ever has had."

HOW TO ANSWER THE PHONE

Honolulu, July 12, 1917.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: In the communication from "Patience" yesterday regarding the proper answer to a telephone ring permit me to say that your correspondent is absolutely wrong.

The proper answer to a telephone ring is to call back your number or name (the former preferably).

This permits, in the case of non-identification of the voice of the speaker, some knowledge of who the person ringing up is talking to; otherwise, in many instances it is impossible to continue talking as certainly the conversation should not be continued unless the right party has answered.

Too often have busy men been asked to find out that the answering party, "Hello," is not the number wanted at all but another number altogether, who from motives of curiosity will attempt to keep up a conversation, using as an excuse that the other party has not said "Who is this?"

I think by inquiry at the telephone office "Patience" will find out that "Who is this?" is perfectly proper when the answer comes back simply "Hello."

When the phone rings answer your number or name hereafter. "Patience," and you'll get along all right.

AMITY.

BOARD RECEIVES IDEAS FOR NEW SWIMMING SLIP

Several suggestions of interest regarding the construction of a swimming slip adjacent to the proposed wharf at Pier 2, Honolulu harbor, were contained in a letter from Col. Robert R. Raymond, corps of engineers, presented this afternoon to the harbor board. The letter is in answer to one from the board and is as follows:

"With regard to your preliminary plan for the new pier and swimming slip, there are a few points that are thought to merit careful consideration. In the first place a course to provide 100 yards must be of slightly greater length than 100 yards in order to permit the use of the necessary starting and turning points."

"The slip as planned will be impossible to keep free from sand. There is a movement of sand along the shore from the walkway side of the harbor entrance which has shoaled the dredged basin under and around the boathouse and wharf at Pier 1. A slip dredged as shown by your plan would certainly be obliterated by this sand movement unless you construct under the south end of the wharf a solid curtain wall from the sea wall to the harbor line to intercept the sand."

"I believe this curtain wall should be built. It need not be very massive. I suggest that you omit the wall and fill shown on your plan between the swimming slip and the harbor line and construct all this part of the new wharf on concrete piles so as to expose the whole slip to the free action of the tides. This would probably be cheaper than the wall and fill shown."

"Under the main part of the wharf the large fill would justify the construction of the containing wall, but I think the small fill just mentioned would not."

CHINESE SUMMER SCHOOL OPENED

The Mun Lun Chinese school has started its summer session with an enrolment of 400 students, breaking all records of former years. The school is the largest one outside of China and Japan, and is recognized as a standard Chinese school by the Chinese government. The number of girls and boys are about evenly divided. There are eight classes with eleven teachers at the present time. The rooms are all occupied and a new building is now under construction.

During the summer months the students go to school from 9 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. There is an allowance of one hour at noon for lunch.

OFFICE OF TREASURER IS TO BE ENLARGED

To take care of the increased work resulting from the frontage improvement law, D. L. Conking, city treasurer, is planning to enlarge the treasury office in the Kapiolani office.

He intends to extend the office mauka about five feet, build a counter parallel with the window on the makai side and extend the present counter further towards the door.

"As soon as the proposed frontage work is in full swing next year we shall be swamped with work and extra space is absolutely necessary," he said today. "Even now we are somewhat cramped for room and with the changes the office will also be much color."

MOVE ORDNANCE DEPOT

August 1 has been set by army headquarters as the date on which the Hawaiian ordinance depot will move to the new site on the east side of the Fort street military reservation. An ordinance detachment at Fort Kamehameha will assist in the work of moving.

INSTANT ACTION SURPRISES MANY HERE

This grocer's story surprises local people: "I had had stomach trouble. All food seemed to sour and form gas. Was always constipated. Nothing helped until I tried buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka. ONE SPOONFUL astonished me with its INSTANT action." Because Adler-ka flushes the ENTIRE alimentary tract it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. Why is it that every Big Businessman says that truthful, competent advertising has been the main factor in his success? Be- cause, granting equal qual- ity of goods and equal courtesy of service, the mere mechanical advantage of reaching thousands of customers more than his competitor has given him an inestimable ad- vantage and made his success certain.

There are great opportunities in Honolulu awaiting for the man who appreciates the power of advertising. Are you the man?

PASTURE LAND IS INSPECTED BY FOOD OFFICIALS

Initial Step Taken By Commission to Increase Cattle Raising

Two large tracts of land in the country, one at Nanakuli, leased by the Oahu Railway & Land Co., and the other on the Makala side of Wai-anae, a part of which is occupied by homesteaders, were visited yesterday by A. L. Dean, executive officer of the territorial food commission; Chas. S. Judd, executive officer of the board of agriculture and forestry, and Louis Warren, manager of the Honolulu ranch.

This was the initial step taken by the commission to put into service all available unused pasture land for the raising of stock to increase the local meat supply.

If the cattle on the land at Nanakuli are ordered kept out of the small gullies in the foothills where they generally go when it is dry, a considerable moist vegetation is to be found there, it may be necessary to reduce the herd by removing about 300 head of cattle, the land now accommodating about 700 head.

In the opinion of Mr. Dean, steps should be taken to allow the railroad company to graze its cattle in the gullies and thus prevent the reduction of the herd.

The land at Wai-anae was found to be plentifully supplied with cactus and glue, which makes excellent fodder. Some of the homesteaders now occupying portions of this land are raising calves and are anxious to use parts of this forest reserve land for grazing purposes.

"I see no reason why these homesteaders should not be allowed to use a large part of this area for pasture if it is properly fenced," says Mr. Dean. "The only drawback is that the young cattle are allowed to roam in too large an area, they are apt to become wild. But I believe there are several hundred acres there which could be used, and I believe the board of agriculture could make the necessary arrangements."
